

The Magic Meditations Workshops
Free Workbook

An accompaniment to the Magic Meditation CD series

Opening to the Law of Attraction

Ina R. Ames

Opening to the Law of Attraction 78.07

Opening to the Law of Attraction

1. Opening to the Law of Attraction Introduction 1.58

We all have the natural ability to attract what we want in our lives, for ourselves, for others and for the planet. Unfortunately, we develop barriers to the free expression of ourselves and to the nature of the Law of Attraction while growing up. This CD gives you tools and techniques to open yourself up, once again, to the natural Law of Attraction.

2. Muscle Relaxation 4.46

4-4-4-4 Breathing Exercise

The first exercise in this track is the Muscle Relaxation Exercise. It is a simple exercise that allows you to relax all your muscles, starting with your feet and then going up your body. You may have previously performed this type of exercise in gym class. By tightening your muscles and then releasing them, your body becomes more relaxed.

The 4-4-4-4 Breathing Exercise is a breathing exercise that demands concentration. You must focus to inhale to the count of four, hold the inhalation to the count of four, exhale to the count of four and hold the exhalation to the count of four. Such controlled breathing relaxes your body. Focusing on the steps (in, two, three, four etc.), clears your mind of stress and everyday concerns that can make you tense, plus it begins the process of controlled breathing and meditation. Use this exercise throughout the day to immediately reduce tension. Sustaining an even flow of breath as you inhale and exhale takes practice.

Here's how to do it!

4-4-4-4

We are now going to do the 4-4-4-4 breathing exercise. You will be inhaling to the count of four, holding to the count of four exhaling to the count of four and holding to the count of four. Try to have an even flow of breath as you inhale or exhale.

Take a deep breath and as you exhale, relax, take another deep diaphragmatic breath and as you exhale, relax even further and let out all the air.

*In two, three four.
Hold two, three, four.
Out two, three, four
Hold two, three, four.*

*In two, three four.
Hold two, three, four.
Out two, three, four
Hold two, three, four.*

*In two, three four.
Hold two, three, four.
Out two, three, four
Hold two, three, four.*

*In two, three four.
Hold two, three, four.
Out two, three, four
Hold two, three, four.*

*In two, three four.
Hold two, three, four.
Out two, three, four
Hold two, three, four.*

3. Chakra Mediation

9.08

This is one of my all time favorite Chakra Meditations and, for that matter, any meditation. We have an energy field within us and surrounding our body called the Auric Field. There are energy centers throughout our body called chakras. This meditation focuses on the major chakras. In this meditation, you're noticing your chakras, opening them up, allowing the energy to flow within your body, and then both within your body and out into your auric field. You end up by having your energy flowing within and without your body.

This exercise is an amazing healing exercise. You don't have to have special training to heal yourself. Do the Chakra Meditation and you will be healing every inch of both your physical body and the "auric body" of your auric field – healing within and without your body. (Always remember, however, that a meditation doesn't substitute for medical attention when that's needed. When you need medical attention, get it. Use the Chakra Meditation to supplement medical care when it's needed. Use the Chakra Meditation as preventative medicine.)

You may be among those who find that when you do the Chakra Meditation and the next exercise (the Expanding Consciousness Exercise) that you seem to "fall asleep". You hear the CD but as if it's far away. You are getting deeper into the meditation and so it sounds distant. This happens for some people but not everyone. It is neither an advantage nor a disadvantage.

Others, especially "auditory" learners, often feel relaxed and deep into meditating but the words and music won't sound distant. Whatever happens is more often determined by your personal learning style (visual, auditory or kinesthetic) than by doing the exercise the "right way". There is not "right way". However you respond is fine.

The final part of this Meditation is an affirmation that I've heard is either from Ram Daas or ancient (or both). I acknowledge whoever originated it. I love this and use this affirmation often.

It goes: "I am filling myself and my auric field with the purest white light in the universe. It fills me within and without. Only good can come in. Only good can go out. I give thanks."

Now if you're not religious, don't consider this a prayer. Consider it an affirmation of strength.

I say this when I'm driving and feel unsafe. I say "I am filling myself, my auric field and my car with the purest white light in the universe. It fills me within and without. Only good can come in. Only good can go out. I give thanks." It takes away whatever fear or bad feelings there are. It forces me to focus which is a good idea when driving in what might be unsafe conditions. I say it other times when I feel at risk. Sometimes, I say it "just 'cause'".

The other cool thing about the Chakra Meditation is that, after practicing a while, you can immediately "go to the Chakra exercise and allow the energy to flow through your body." I only have you do this once in these six CDs but use it often in the Workshops. This is very useful in many situations. Try it.

4. Expanding Consciousness Exercise

4.53

This is a good place to discuss "the creative imagination". Often throughout these Workshops I ask you to imagine, "in your mind, in your creative imagination." My friend Mary would like to know where else a creative imagination could be besides your mind. Good point. However, I say "in your mind, in your creative imagination" to remind you to be aware of several truths. Your imagination exists only in your mind. It isn't a physical thing.

I hear people say "I don't have a very good imagination" and my nose crinkles. Everyone has a perfectly good imagination. Some of us have practiced using it because we were encouraged as children. So we have more experience. But your imagination is no better or worse than you best friend's imagination. She or he may simply have more practice. (Or you may!) So when you're told to imagine in your mind, in your creative imagination, know that your imagination is both present and developing.

I can't put my hands on my chakras, or infinite resources, or my intuition or many of the other concepts discussed here. My chakras -- like love, patriotism, fidelity and integrity-- live in my mind, in my creative imagination. If I can't touch it (if it's not physical), it only lives in my creative imagination. Even a dog I saw yesterday only lives in my mind because it's not in the room right now!

The only way you can have the Expanding Consciousness Exercise work for you is for you to realize that you are expanding your consciousness in your creative imagination. There is no need to "be" the room, the building, the state or province, which is good – because there is no right way to do this exercise. It's designed to have you expand your consciousness so do what's asked and take what you get. Whatever you experience is perfect for you this time. Who knows about the next time? Only that it'll be perfect for you then!

Enjoy the exercise. My favorite part is where I finally get out to the Universe and sit down and look down on mother earth. The first time I experienced "infinite resources" was in 1982 when I was practicing this exercise. I sat on a meteor (now you know this is in my imagination!) and looked down on mother earth. I wondered what it would be like if everyone, every man, woman and child, was fed, loved, educated, and had a home. Suddenly, there was a vibrating white aura around the earth. It was a most incredible experience of loving and knowing – knowing that the universe had been designed so that there were infinite resources for all. That's the source of my promise for the world – by 2026, a world vibrating with infinite resources.

5. Sanctuary Building

3.09

I love building my Sanctuary. Each time I do it, I look forward to finding what might be in my gift box or what new additions my imagination has made to my Sanctuary.

If you've built a Sanctuary before, please allow yourself to have it be like a new experience. You never do know what you get in your creative imagination. If you've never built a Sanctuary before, understand it doesn't have to be perfect. It can stay the same or change every time you do the exercise.

Your Sanctuary is your Sanctuary. Okay, I know that was redundant, but it's true and important. This is a place to go in your creative imagination where you have incredible power, can play, grow, heal, can practice plenty of skills, and meet people you've never known. The possibilities are limitless. It is, first and foremost, your Sanctuary. No one can go into your Sanctuary without your inviting them in. You can "redecorate it" any time you want (and no credit card bills, either!)

The Sanctuary contains many rooms and each performs a different function. This allows you to go into your Sanctuary and create what you want in your life. If you want to add to your abilities, you go to your Ability Room. If you want to play, go to your Play Room. For healing or the simple experience of joy, go to your (non-slip) Crystal Room. You can visit with people alive or past, real or imagined in your Vision and Healing Room. You can use your People mover to move people into the room (and out again). You can use your healing table to heal yourself or bring in healers. (Again, don't use this as a substitute for needed medical attention.) Finally, in your Vision and Healing Room you can use your Time Machine to visit the past and heal old wounds or travel forward and create a future you'd like to live.

After you've entered your Sanctuary and been bathed in a healing light, you build and explore your Gift Box and see if there's a gift for you. Or create one you want! I love this. It's such a delight. The purple and gold heart in this exercise happened for me once when my heart was hurting. Mostly I just get delightful gifts that make my heart sing.

Finally, after building your Sanctuary, you get to go to your Ability Room.

6. Opening to the Law of Attraction Ability Room

13.17

We'll start with the general introduction to the Ability Room and then discuss the Opening to the Law of Attraction Ability Room which is adopted specifically for this workshop.

Your Ability Room allows you either to practice an ability you have or to create a new one. Many professional athletes do an exercise close to this one where they practice an ability or skill in their creative imagination. That's what we're doing here.

In order to facilitate your practicing or your creating an ability, you put on either an ability star or an ability suit. This room is an adaption from an ancient Tibetan exercise. Bob Fritz* introduced me to the idea of an ability suit and I liked and added the idea of an ability star as an alternative choice. The important thing is that you allow yourself to build your confidence in your ability to ski, dance, love, be generous, empathize or whatever is important to you. You simply put on your ability suit or star and practice having that ability. I use this room in several of the CDs to practice abilities related to the topic – such as your ability suit or star for calling forth intuition or for dissolving barriers or for opening to the Law of Attraction. It's used often throughout my Workshops. This is a room you can use any time you like. If you think of an ability that you'd like to practice, you can simply go to your Ability Room in your creative imagination and practice that ability. Or, because you have this guide to the different CDs, you can go directly to the correct track on one of the CDs you own and practice that way. Do whatever suits your needs.

*(see the "About Us" page of the web page and scroll down to acknowledgements)

In this workshop, you are using the Ability Room to both open to the Law of Attraction and to dissolve the barriers to your natural ability to attract what you want in your life. You can visit this room and use your ability suits or stars. First, you put on the ability suit or star for opening to the Law of Attraction and do a guided meditation to open to the Law of Attraction. Next, you put on the ability suit or star for dissolving barriers to your natural ability to create what you want. Any time there is a block between you and opening to the Law of Attraction, you can put on either your ability star or ability suits and open up to receiving what you want.

7. Sanctuary Play Room

1.16

While a separate room, the Play Room is generally paired with the Ability Room exercise. Your Play Room is literally a place for you to play. As grownups, we often forget to play or forget how to play. Your Play Room is a place for you to play alone or with an invited friend. Use the Play Room when you feel the need to heal through play or simply to escape. None of the Workshops use the Play Room as a workroom. It's like the rule about not working in your bedroom. You shouldn't work in your bedroom and you shouldn't work in your Play Room. (Well, at least shouldn't work in your Play Room!).

8. Opening to the Law of Attraction Crystal Room

8.08

This track is the Crystal Room designed specifically for the Opening to the Law of Attraction Workshop. I love the Crystal Room. I love imagining a room made of all crystals and that it's non-slip. I guess I just love crystals. And where better can we go to heal and experience joy? I just love sitting in the Crystal Room experiencing being surrounded by crystals in my creative imagination. It's so healing. We also do several exercises in the Crystal Room. In the CDs, our primary exercise besides being in the Crystal Room is the dissolving doubt/fear exercise. What a wonderful way to get rid of fears appropriately. Most of our fears have two parts, a protective part and a part that stops us unnecessarily. In dissolving doubt/fear in the Crystal Room, we manage to dissolve the part that stops us with a rainbow from the crystal while allowing the protective part to go back into our body where it belongs (remember, in our creative imagination).

9. Sanctuary Vision and Healing Room

2.21

This room reminds me of what they use to call in the 1970's, an "all purpose room". It houses your healing table, time machine and people mover. The people mover is used in several Workshops so you can bring people into the Vision and Healing Room with you for various exercises including healing. The healing table is like a massage table where some of the healers you bring in through the people mover can help you heal. The time machine allows you to travel back into the past and heal the past or into the future and create a future. Remember that you can always go to your Vision and Healing Room any time you want.

10. Sanctuary Intuition

1.58

The Sanctuary Intuition Room takes under two minutes and in those two little minutes you get to meet your intuition (as an image or sound), create a line of communication with your intuition, and create a signal which will bring forth your intuition for you anywhere, any time. It's a pretty powerful two minutes! You can always go to the CD(s) to use this or once you've listened to this a few times, or you can simply use your signal and to summon your intuition anytime, anywhere. The purpose of this is exercise is to develop the ability to access your intuition consciously, mindfully and consistently instead of occasionally and sporadically. It is also to empower you to be able to use your signal wherever you are – the office, the supermarket – and bring forth intuition.

11. Sanctuary Exit 0.35

This is a no brainer but it's an important track because it begins the transition from the workshop to your normal consciousness. You create a signal that only you can use to open your Sanctuary. It reminds you that no one else can come into your Sanctuary without your permission.

12. Golden Energy Exercise 4.26

I love the Golden energy exercise. This is one of the exercises where you go directly to the Chakra Meditation and allow the energy to flow through your body. You are then surrounded by a beautiful bubble of gold energy that transforms your perspective regarding money, relationship and love. It's like a mini-vacation.

13. Opening to the Law of Attraction Exit 1.35

This track reminds you that this workshop has provided you with the ability to open yourself to the Law of Attraction. It also helps both to dissolve the barriers to the Law of Attraction and to dissolve the doubt/fears that get in the way of attracting what you want. You're reawakened to the intrinsic naturalness of the Law of Attraction. Whenever you aren't attracting or magnetizing what you want, either go to the Ability Room or the Crystal Room and open to the Law of Attraction and dissolve the barriers to opening to the Law of Attraction.

14. Relaxation and Meditation Exit 2.06

This exercise bring you back to waking consciousness (if that's your wish) if you're listening to the CD(s) during the day, or it allows you to drift into a deep sleep if this is your regular bedtime.

By counting backwards from five to one, you transition back to full waking consciousness. If it is your regular bedtime, you ignore the waking cues and drift off into a resting and relaxing sleep that allows you to awaken at your regular time refreshed.

Relaxation and Meditation 12.58 minute version 12.58

15. Relaxation and Meditation Introduction 1.26

This is the introduction to the Relaxation and Meditation Workshops - all three lengths. The reason for having three lengths is so that you can relax and meditate regardless how much or little time you have. Chose the length by the amount of time you have available. The shortest version is on each of the other Workshop CDs.

(TADB) The Take a Deep Breath transition is used throughout the series. First, it has you take two deep breaths periodically throughout the Workshop. This is good. If I had my way, I would require everyone to take two deep breaths as transitions throughout their day. Off of a phone call? Take two deep breaths. Going to lunch? Going to a meeting? Going into rush hour traffic? Take two deep breaths. Heading to bed? ...You get the idea. Deep breathing extends your life. It relaxes your muscles. It provides your body with needed oxygen. It allows you to focus for a few seconds on something other than life's petty details. Second, the TADB transition signals that we're moving from one exercise to another.

Here's how to do it! (3 means a 3 three second pause)

Take a deep breath (3) and as you exhale, relax (3). Take another deep diaphragmatic breath (3), and as you exhale, relax even further.

Diaphragmatic breathing is an especially efficient form of respiration. The air always goes into your lungs. The diaphragm is a dome-shaped muscle that is under your lungs and protects your lungs, heart, and other organs from what's below it. As you relax the diaphragm, your lungs have more room to expand which allows for more air and a "deeper breath". The more air you bring into your lungs, the more oxygen goes to your bloodstream.

To experience diaphragmatic breathing (without the depth) pant like a puppy dog. Hold your hand gently on your upper stomach. You'll feel the *diaphragm moving up and down. (Relaxation, not tension, is required.)

The next step is to begin to pant like a puppy but to “pull in” more air.
Your inhalation becomes longer and the diaphragm relaxes so your lungs can expand more.*

16. Muscle Relaxation Exercise

4-4-4-4 Breathing Exercise

4.34

The first exercise in this track is the Muscle Relaxation Exercise. It is a simple exercise that allows you to relax all your muscles, starting with your feet and then going up your body. You may have previously performed this type of exercise in gym class. By tightening your muscles and then releasing them, your body becomes more relaxed.

The 4-4-4-4 Breathing Exercise is a breathing exercise that demands concentration. You must focus to inhale to the count of four, hold the inhalation to the count of four, exhale to the count of four and hold the exhalation to the count of four. Such controlled breathing relaxes your body. Focusing on the steps (in, two, three, four etc.), clears your mind of stress and everyday concerns that can make you tense, plus it begins the process of controlled breathing and meditation. Use this exercise throughout the day to immediately reduce tension. Sustaining an even flow of breath as you inhale and exhale takes practice.

Here's how to do it!

4-4-4-4

We are now going to do the 4-4-4-4 breathing exercise. You will be inhaling to the count of four, holding to the count of four exhaling to the count of four and holding to the count of four. Try to have an even flow of breath as you inhale or exhale.

Take a deep breath and as you exhale, relax, take another deep diaphragmatic breath and as you exhale, relax even further and let out all the air.

In two, three four.

Hold two, three, four.

Out two, three, four

Hold two, three, four.

In two, three four.

Hold two, three, four.

Out two, three, four

Hold two, three, four.

In two, three four.

Hold two, three, four.

Out two, three, four

Hold two, three, four.

In two, three four.

Hold two, three, four.

Out two, three, four

Hold two, three, four.

In two, three four.

Hold two, three, four.

Out two, three, four

Hold two, three, four.

17. Expanding Consciousness Exercise

4.38

This is a good place to discuss “the creative imagination”. Often throughout these Workshops I ask you to imagine, “in your mind, in your creative imagination.” My friend Mary would like to know where else a creative imagination could be besides your mind. Good point. However, I say “in your mind, in your creative imagination” to remind you to be aware of several truths. Your imagination exists only in your mind. It isn’t a physical thing.

I hear people say “I don’t have a very good imagination” and my nose crinkles. Everyone has a perfectly good imagination. Some of us have practiced using it because we were encouraged as children. So we have more experience. But your imagination is no better or worse than you best friend’s imagination. She or he may simply have more practice. (Or you may!) So when you're told to imagine in your mind, in your creative imagination, know that your imagination is both present and developing.

I can't put my hands on my chakras, or infinite resources, or my intuition or many of the other concepts discussed here. My chakras -- like love, patriotism, fidelity and integrity-- live in my mind, in my creative imagination. If I can't touch it (if it's not physical), it only lives in my creative imagination. Even a dog I saw yesterday only lives in my mind because it's not in the room right now!

The only way you can have the Expanding Consciousness Exercise work for you is for you to realize that you are expanding your consciousness in your creative imagination. There is no need to "be" the room, the building, the state or province, which is good – because there is no right way to do this exercise. It's designed to have you expand your consciousness so do what's asked and take what you get. Whatever you experience is perfect for you this time. Who knows about the next time? Only that it'll be perfect for you then!

Enjoy the exercise. My favorite part is where I finally get out to the Universe and sit down and look down on mother earth. The first time I experienced "infinite resources" was in 1982 when I was practicing this exercise. I sat on a meteor (now you know this is in my imagination!) and looked down on mother earth. I wondered what it would be like if everyone, every man, woman and child, was fed, loved, educated, and had a home. Suddenly, there was a vibrating white aura around the earth. It was a most incredible experience of loving and knowing – knowing that the universe had been designed so that there were infinite resources for all. That's the source of my promise for the world – by 2026, a world vibrating with infinite resources.

18. Relaxation and Meditation Exit

2.07

This exercise bring you back to waking consciousness (if that's your wish) if you're listening to the CD(s) during the day, or it allows you to drift into a deep sleep if this is your regular bedtime.

By counting backwards from five to one, you transition back to full waking consciousness. If it is your regular bedtime, you ignore the waking cues and drift off into a resting and relaxing sleep that allows you to awaken at your regular time refreshed.

19. Introduction to the CD Series

5.13

This is blatant advertising, but allows people to hear an introduction to each CD so they have some idea if the individual CDs are for them (they are!)